and when printing out the patterns, set the 'Page Scaling' to NONE for the correct scaling of the pattern pieces.

Materials:
- 1/3 yard cotton fabric for jumper and facing
- 1/4 inch button
- Ric rac trim if desired

Directions:

Cut out the jumper and the lining.

Right sides together, stitch the shoulder seams of both the jumper and the facing. Press the seam open.

Zig zag around the outside edge of the facing piece; zig zag the side edges of the jumper. On my Viking I use a stitch length of 1.5 and a stitch width of 3.

Right sides together, sew the facing to the jumper from the center back, along the neck edge and down the other back edge. Clip the corners of the front of the jumper, and the curve along the back, and press the facing to the wrong side of the jumper.

Right sides together, stitch the front to the back at the side seams to the point indicated on the pattern. Backtack at the point and end stitching. Press the seam open and continue to press 1/4 inch to the wrong side up around the armhole opening. Stitch the armhole hem with a running stitch or use featherstitching.

Zig zag the bottom edge of the jumper with a short stitch and narrow zig zag. Press up 1/2 inch for the bottom hem. Stitch the center back seam to the point indicated on the pattern and backtack. Press seam open. Hem the bottom edge with a running stitch or featherstitching.

Sew button to one side of the back and make a thread loop on the other to close.
